Leading Albany Law Firm Names Chief Operating Officer

Albany, New York (January 3, 2017) - The partners of Featherstonhaugh, Wiley & Clyne, LLP (FWC), a leading law firm specializing in government relations, regulatory affairs, business law, health law and association management, is pleased to announce that David F. Fleming, Jr. has been appointed Chief Operating Officer of the firm.

"We are pleased that David has agreed to assume this new role for the organization as we implement our strategic plan for continued growth," said partner James Featherstonhaugh.

FWC has an unparalleled reputation and history in Albany as a leading government relations and law firm. The firm is also the New York member of SCG Legal*, bringing clients access to law firms in all 50 state capitals in the United States as well as in the world's commercial centers.

"I'm truly honored for this opportunity to apply my skills and experience to the management of a remarkable firm that is incredibly well positioned for growth and expansion of client services for years to come," stated David Fleming.

For more than twenty years David has provided association management and legislative representation services for a variety of clients and in relation to many of the most pressing issues in Albany. He has a diverse background in representing some of New York's largest industries to some of the smallest not-for-profits and advocacy organizations.

In addition to his current management and legislative representation at FWC, David has served for nearly two decades as a Judicial Delegate and is a five-term supervisor of the Town of Nassau, New York. He has also led and served on many not-for-profit boards.

"David's solid management background and commitment to comprehensive client services compliments where we are and where we are going as a firm," said Managing Partner Elizabeth Clyne.
